School Council Wednesday 20th March 2019

School Council thought about Red Nose Day and what changes they would make next time.

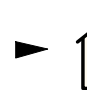

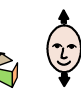

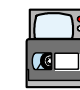

They decided to buy noses from Sainsburys rather than order them, to make sure they could start selling them one month before Red Nose Day. Some people would have liked to have thrown custard pies, but it was too noisy. Next time School Council will make sure there is a quiet place where some children might prefer to throw custard pies.

School Council are going to support recycling in the school. There are to be Green ambassadors in the school to make sure people recycle. School Council are to make a video about plastic waste.

In June School Council will help organise Soccer Aid. They discussed lots of ideas for the day.

School Council asked for somewhere that they could show off their good work on a TV like the one in the entrance lobby. They will ask Mike to do this.

At the Summer Show we discussed making ice cream to sell. One idea was that the ice cream should taste of summer.
